A few questions from our membership:

What is the difference between the 3 mandatory workdays and the sign-ups to volunteer to assist arena/snack bar directors during events?

Each member is required to work 3 workdays on the arena property each year to maintain the ground and to help install property upgrades/features. If these are missed than a $10 fine will be requested for each missed workday, with a maximum total of $30/year. Lifetime and honorary members are exempt from this requirement.

Each member is required to sign up to volunteer 2 arena events as arena or snack bar assistance. These sign-ups are important to help the snack bar director and arena director to maintain and provide a good event for the public that is invited. If these volunteer days are missed than it counts as a missed meeting which could count towards the miss 3 in a row and your membership is canceled policy. Once again, lifetime and honorary members are exempt, but the snack bar director and arena director are also exempt as they are expected to work all events in the year.

Are Lifetime members required to pay dues?

No, the lifetime members are not required to pay dues or attend meetings to maintain their PCR memberships. However, in order to vote, or hold a board member or officer title, they do need to be in good standing which means that they need to attend meetings like the paying membership is required to do.

Jr Board Updates:

Our Jr members are looking for a new Jr Board director! Denise Lawes has offered to chair this committee, but the position will be open for other people to volunteer at the January general meeting and a vote will be held if needed.

The JR board has been offered the chance to raffle off a free poker ride for the April 2023 Poker ride and a free pass to participate in the 10/2023 Open Playday for 1 rider. These tickets were determined to be available for $1 each at the board meeting so the new director will already have some help with Jr Board fundraising for 2023!

It is also a possibility that the Jr Board will host the annual Fall Obstacle Course. Check back for more fun from our Jr members.

Attendance: None

Dues: None
